Is it important that my child receives all vaccines on time?

It’s very important that your baby receives all vaccines on time: at birth, 2 months, 4 months, 6 months, 8 months and 12 months. Vaccines protect your baby against common and serious diseases caused by viruses and bacteria. When your baby has not received all the required vaccines or the vaccines are late, they aren’t protected.

Apart from vaccination, is there anything else I can do to keep my baby healthy?

Babies and children can also be protected from illness and disease by giving them a healthy diet, keeping them warm, not living in overcrowded homes and washing your hands well with soap and water. Have your baby weighed regularly to see if it’s growing well. Get vitamins supplements and medicines for fighting off any worms. Be safe and healthy.
