Medical students’ reasons not to enter specialty training immediately after the Foundation Programme

- Reapplying for specialty programme
- Experiencing another healthcare system
- Undertaking further study
- Starting a family
- Portfolio building for applications
- Saving money or greater earning potential
- Ability to choose work location
- Burnout

Percentage of Medical Students

Very important or important
Neither important nor unimportant
Not important or not at all important